Clinical track; full-time position

The Educational Leadership program in the Margaret Warner Graduate School of Education and Human Development, University of Rochester seeks applications for an 11-month, full-time, non-tenure track position as assistant or associate professor in higher education. The University of Rochester is a private non-denominational research university located in Rochester, New York. This is a non-tenure track faculty position, with an initial contract for a minimum of three years, renewable.

The selected candidate will serve as director of the Higher Education program. Main duties include: leading program recruitment efforts; facilitating partnerships with institutes of higher education; nurturing and developing relationships with assistantship supervisors; coordinating and supervising internship placements; maintaining relationships with alumni; overseeing program level communication and data collection; interviewing program applicants; serving as a liaison to student affairs and administrative related units at the University of Rochester; teaching graduate courses on topics such as leadership, student affairs, administration, organizational behavior, assessment, and accountability in institutions of higher education; supervising master's theses internship seminars, and the doctoral cohort; and providing program and career advising for master's and doctoral candidates.

Applicants should have a doctorate in higher education, higher education administration, or a closely related field; extensive administrative experience (five-ten years), and a commitment to the preparation of strong educational leaders and scholars, institutional reform and management, diversity and equity, excellence in teaching, as well as a strong clinical practice. We seek a candidate that can complement the expertise of our current faculty in higher education and educational leadership. Professional experience in student affairs is preferred. Willingness to teach, develop and support online programing is also preferred. Successful candidates must be committed to working with diverse community populations. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.

The Higher Education program, which is part of Educational Leadership, is a vibrant program that has prepared college presidents, provosts, deans, residence hall directors, college admission officers, facilities managers, financial aid officers, library administrators, academic, career and student support services officers, and university professors. The Higher Education program is a multi-disciplinary program that allows students to pursue a master's degree, an Ed.D., or a Ph.D. The faculty in the program are productive teachers and researchers who have gained national and international reputations and who are also committed to improving the quality of higher education and preparing practitioners with diverse career and research interests and backgrounds. We have developed a number of online programs and courses at Warner as part of our commitment to enhancing learning opportunities for students and ensuring equitable access, and the higher education program is part of these efforts. The program, as well as the School, is dedicated to producing and using educational research to enhance the effectiveness of educational institutions.

The University of Rochester is committed to the development of a multicultural environment. We seek greater diversity in our faculty and staff to broaden our academic experience. We value input of multiple viewpoints and perspectives across the university; our goal is to create an academic community that is rich with cultural, social, and intellectual diversity.

To Apply

Internal candidates:
- Apply through HRMS to posting #220339

External candidates:
- Access the University website via the following link: www.rochester.edu/working/hr/jobs/
- Click on Jobs in the menu bar at the top and select Job Search for External Candidates
- In the Job Opening ID field, enter 220339 and hit Search
- Select the job and hit “Apply for Selected Job” and submit your CV

In addition, all applicants must submit the following:
Send a (1) letter of application stating your interest in coordinating the higher education program, (2) current vita, (3) one page statement of teaching/advising interests, (4) samples of publications, syllabi or other professional writing and (5) three letters of reference.

Email all documents to:
cghinazzi@warner.rochester.edu
Christine Ghinazzi
Faculty Searches Support Staff
University of Rochester
Warner School of Education
Box 270425
Rochester, NY 14627

Please contact Dr. Holly Manaseri, Search Committee Chair, at hmanaseri@warner.rochester.edu if you have any questions.

We will begin our formal review of applications immediately and will continue to review applications until the position is filled.