

Regional Mathematics Leadership Cadre Embracing Change!

The Center for Professional Development and Education Reform, is once again offering an opportunity for teachers, teacher leaders, math coaches, and administrators to come together to learn, share resources and ideas, and provide support to each other as we work to successfully implement high quality mathematics instruction for K-12 students.

As each of us works to meet the demands of teaching in our current educational contexts, it is crucial that we, as a region, work in collaboration to best serve our students. This year's Cadre will continue our commitment to bring research to practice as we focus on high quality mathematics teaching and learning in a remote learning environment, a socially distanced classroom, and/or a hybrid learning structure.

Additionally, new and returning Cadre members will have opportunities to:

- participate in a fully online experience to develop new images of mathematics teaching and learning and to explore topics such as engagement, collaboration, and motivation in a socially distant or remote classroom;
- collaborate with others across the region and across grade levels by sharing strategies and materials to support the implementation of high quality mathematics;
- come to a deeper understanding of the mathematics within the Common Core Learning Standards and prepare for the Next Generation Learning Standards as we explore the implications on mathematics teaching and learning; and
- stay up to date with the latest information from the field at regional, state and national levels, tapping into regional and national expertise.

This year we are all facing unprecedented challenges and adapting to new circumstances continuously. In an effort to be responsive to districts needs, and understanding of budgetary challenges, we have decided to offer our Ninth Annual Regional Mathematics Leadership Cadre at no cost to participants. We will be offering 30 spots for Cadre via a lottery system.
